Why not spend a quiet time in a traditional Japanese rural landscape full of nature?

The Takakura area of Tsuyama City, Okayama Prefecture, where the guest house is located, is situated at the foot of Karasugasen, a rural area rich in nature, where you can experience a peaceful countryside lifestyle. It is only a 10-minute drive from the Tsuyama Interchange on the Chugoku Expressway, making it easily accessible by car. In front of the guest house, there is a large field with plums, plums, figs, yuzu, loquat, and chestnut trees, where you can partake in activities such as harvesting various crops and fruit trees. In addition, you can take a stroll around the area as there is a bamboo forest that spreads out in the hills behind the house and also large oak trees, fir trees, cedar trees, and cypress trees.

Activities (please contact the owners regarding fees)

Meals at the guest house can be prepared using Takakura rice or vegetables taken from the fields, and guests can cook local dishes together with the owners or have fun barbecuing. In the winter, guests can enjoy pizza and bread baking using the wood stove, roasting coffee at the log table, or sip local sake while enjoying the slow passing of time. At night, you can gaze at the stars that fill the sky. The front of the inn is spacious, so you can enjoy a bonfire or fireworks in the garden.

~ Other Activities Day trips such as one-day insect collecting camps for children and other events; Cooking activities (Nagashi somen, making pizzas, buckwheat noodles, rice cakes, udon noodles, box sushi, etc.); Bush crafts for parents and children; Farming with parents and children; Barbecues are available for dinner, and at night we will provide a place to enjoy bonfires, fireworks, and campfires.
