The first farm inn in Saga prefecture

The first deregulated farmhouse inn in Saga Prefecture, which was opened in February 2006 after renovating an 80-year-old barn and farmhouse. Guza is an inn with a nostalgic atmosphere equipped with a traditional Japanese Kamado stove, irori hearth and a Goemon bath for relaxation of the body and soul.

Local produce for meals and abundant activities are popular

All ingredients are homemade and safe. We offer a healthy menu using seasonal vegetables harvested at our inn and foraged wild plants. Customers are pleased with meals including yamame trout in the summer and wild boar in the winter. There is also a rich menu of seasonal farming and countryside activities, such as harvesting vegetables and making miso.
